San Diego Restaurants to Eat at this Week

Flour & Barley

The new eatery in downtown's Headquarters at Seaport Village may hail from Las Vegas, but its second concept has a distinctly San Diego feel with decor that pays tribute to the city's rich naval history. Enjoy a brick oven pizza-centric menu that also features an assortment of appetizers, fresh salads with locally-sourced ingredients, entrees, sandwiches and desserts. The eye-catching bar also boasts house-made cellos, signature cocktails, and an extensive list of 150+ beers on tap and in bottles. 789 W. Harbor Dr., downtown, 619.344.2900. flourandbarley.com
